

Special

She was so young and pretty but so sad Every day she was leaning out her window pane
All these women magazines she read All thoses perfect beauties

Not one part of her body seemed to be right She hated every single part with all her guts
One day she started the fight - she stopped eating

I wanna be someone Special!

He was the youngest and most anxious boy
No-one wanted him to join the football team
The others tortured him like a toy - so he closed up

He started drinking and he soon found out that he lost his inhibition And everyone was really proud on him now he was a man

I wanna be someone Special!

Nobody tells them that there is much more than to do what they do or to be what they are Finding your own way will need all your guts cause the way of the others may not be yours!

I wanna be someone Special!
