

Sheet of Paper

Em (nur bass) | | | |
She is walking slowly down the street
| | | |
Her eyes are following her feet
| | | |
Dark hair is covering her face
| | | |
She has never seen this place
Am | Asus2 | Am | Asus2 |
And like a sheet of paper, the wind is taking her
Em (nur bass) | | | |
away
Am | Asus2 | Am | Asus2 |
The dirty footprints overlay the words she wrote
G | (break) | | |
today

Em | Am | Em | Am |
She is sitting on a wooden chair
Em | Am | Em | Am |
An old man is combing her hair
Em | Am | Em | Am |
Devotion is flowing through her veins
Em | Am | Em | Am |
and put her heart in chains
Am | Asus2 | Am | Asus2 |
And like a sheet of paper, she is sinking slowly to the Em | | | |
floor
Am | Asus2 | Am | Asus2 |
A silver shining curtain, the past behind an iron door

G | | | Dm | | | |
He laughed at her and took the pen and started spelling very faint
Am | | | F | | | |
while he wrote down one single word
G | | | Dm | | | |
The word transformed itself and melted into the feeling she
Am | | | F | | | |
forgot, lost - long time ago

Em (break) | | | |

Again she is walking through the town
her head up high, not not looking down
And in her hand these little note
It carries just the word he wrote
And like a sheet of paper, ripped outta real exciting book she feels so confident about each single step she took
